... for pregnancy
& beyond

Pregnancy:

Physiotherapy research has shown that by improving your deep abdominal stabilising muscles through pilates based exercise, it can prevent lower back and pelvic joint pain. These are all common during pregnancy due to the physical and hormonal changes. Pilates with a Physiotherapist is a safe and effective form of exercise during pregnancy.

Post Natal:

The classes are also great for recovering in the early months, when increased abdominal and pelvic strength are required following the demands of pregnancy and birth, allowing you to return to full activities once again!

Classes may be claimed on private health insurance under "extras" cover.

Location: ReCreation Gym, 1438 High St, Glen Iris/Malvern
